OUTLINES.

In New York State, William J. Bryan and Judge Taft yesterday embarked upon their last week of strenuous campaigning in the storm center and were greeted with great enthusiasm. Mr. Bryan was accorded a remarkable ovation at Madison Square Garden, where he delivered a keynote speech last night. Mr. Taft spoke in Brooklyn——The University of North Carolina and Georgetown football teams played in Washington yesterday, the game resulting in a tie——Fourteen more persons alleged to have taken part in the night rider outrage, were arrested yesterday at Reelfoot Lake, Tenn.——A conference in Berlin between the powers having as its object an International Peace Congress to quiet the Balkan situation, has so far failed to agree upon terms——The census bureau makes public its synopsis of the cotton ginners' report——The chief of the Steam Shovelers' organization has a conference with President Roosevelt——Roosevelt replies to Gompers' answer to his letter to Senator Knox by a statement from Secretary Loeb——The British steamer Hallingwsorth reaches Pensacola from an African port with most of the crew ill with malarial fever——Two women in New York got a chance to kiss Bryan yesterday, but he escaped the osculatory attack of the third one. Mrs. Bryan was present. He made a number of speeches in New York and Connecticut——A man in Lincoln, Neb., is fined $25 for cheering for Bryan under the charge of disorderly conduct on the streets——This is Roosevelt's birthday. There will be no public observance of it at the White House——Archbold makes reply to the letters Hearst has been reading on the stump of late——The Japanese Ambassador at Washington expresses delight at the outcome of the visit of the American warships to Japan——New York markets: Money on call 1 1-4 to 1 1-2 per cent, ruling rate 1 1-4 closing bid 1 1-4, offered at 1 1-2. Cotton quiet, middling uplands 9.35, middling gulf 9.60. Flour steady, but quiet. Wheat steady, No. 2 red 1.08 1-8 elevator. Corn steady, No. 2, 84 spot and 74 1-4 new to arrive in elevator. Oats quiet, mixed 52 to 52 1-2. Rosin quiet. Turpentine firm at 40 1-2.

Thank goodness, there is only one more week of it then there will be a rest for four years.

Why is it that Hearst has not read some correspondence between Senator LaFollette and Archbold?

Some Democrats are afraid to trust Tammany; but they must do so if they expect to carry New York State.

If the full Democratic vote of New Hanover is polled next Tuesday she will be the banner Democratic county of the State. Rally, boys.

Every Democrat who lets anything keep him from the polls on next Tuesday will fail in his duty to his party, to his State and to himself.

Emma Goldman says she is a "follower of Satan." When this statement reaches the ears of his Satanic Majesty he will tremble as he never has but once before.

The Durham Herald predicts hot political times in that county during the latter part of this week. Durham won't be the only county where this will be found.

Nominee Hisgen acts like he expects to get votes worth counting outside of New York State. Tapp is more modest; he does not seem to be claiming anything.

Judging from the registration, New Hanover will cast a big vote this year, which should give us two representatives in the lower house of the Legislature, as we had up to and including the session of 1901.

Until Archbold sees fit to speak no one can know what changes to suit his purpose Hearst has made in the letters stolen from the other's office and which he purports now and then to read to his audiences.

On the registration in this county the Democrats should carry it by between 2,500 and 3,000 majority. Let's get together fellow Democrats and see if we can't do it. We can do so if all the Democrats who have registered will go to the polls and do their duty.

The people of Tennessee should realize the grave position in which they are placed. If they turn those murderers loose, notwithstanding there is enough evidence to conviot them, they will have committed a greater crime than the men who murdered Major Rankin.

Marion Butler has made an engagement to address the Mecklenburg Republicans on the 31st. The appointment was made so far ahead that there is danger of his making another one of his many political somersaults before the day arrives. He may be the manager of Tapp's campaign by that time.

NOW FOR LAST LAP

Speakers at State Democratic Headquarters All Over Carolina This Week.

NEWS NOTES FROM RALEIGH

Newbern Federal Court Postponed on Account Judge Purnell's Continued Illness—Several Corporations Chartered.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 26.—A week of special strenuosity is marking the close of the Democratic campaign in North Carolina the ablest speakers going into every part of the State under the direction of the Democratic State headquarters between now and the close of the campaign next Monday night.

Governor Glenn, on insistence of the State campaign management, turned down all the insistent calls he had from the National committee to speak this week in New York State, and is giving the entire week to North Carolina, his appointments including Oxford, Durham, Graham, Ellenboro, Cherryville, Thomasville, Greensboro, and points in his native and home counties of Rockingham and Forsyth counties during the three days preceding the election.

The itinerary for Mr. Kitchin the nominee for Governor, includes Carthage, Shelby, Charlotte, Salisbury, North Wilkesboro, Durham and other points, while United States Senators Simmons and Overman have appointments in various parts of the west along with appointments in the west also for ex-Governor Aycock. Then other campaigners such as Walter Murphy, F. A. Woodard, E. J. Justice and the State officers and electors are distributed over the State so as to include points in every county of the State for the final round-up of the vote.

The Republicans have a campaign schedule for the week that is quite comprehensive also in the matter of including the whole State and in taxing to the utmost the strongest speakers they can muster. Nominee for Governor J. Elwood Cox, and Former Congressman Thos. Settle will spend most of the week together principally in the eastern section of the State, including Washington, Plymouth, Williamston, Rocky Mount, Tarboro and Goldsboro; the other State campaigners, including C. A. Reynolds, Z. V. Walser, A. E. Holt, A. A. Whitner, J. J. Britt and the candidates for State officers are distributed throughout the State for the final round-up.

The Fremant Telephone Company, for Fremont, Wayne county receives a charter for local and long distance service, the capital being $10,000 subscribed and $900 subscribed by M. T. Johnson, T. C. Hill and others. There is also a charter for the Monroe Ice and Fuel Company, Monroe, N. C., capital $100,000 authorized and $15,000 subscribed. The incorporators are W. E. Carson and others.

The New Light farmer, C. B. Thompson, who was arrested in that section of the county on the charge of forming a band of night riders andthreatening to burn the cotton gins of W. S. Adams and others and committing other outrages, has been committed to the county jail here by a local justice of the peace in default of bond. His trial will go over to the next term of the criminal court. A peace bond was the principal one required by the justice. The prisoner is an ex-blockade distiller, having figured in the Federal Court here several times in the past.

The continued illness of Judge Purnell, of the United States District and Circuit Courts, has made it necessary for court at Newbern to be postponed to December 14th at which time Judge Pritchard directs Judge Edmund Waddill, of the Eastern District of Virginia, to preside in the event Judge Purnell is not able of which there is little prospect now. In fact Judge Purnell's condition is such as to cause very great apprehension among his friends.

EX-SHERIFF AMAN

Defaulting Ex-Sheriff of Sampson Expected at Clinton Today.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Clinton, N. C., Oct. 26.—A rumor has been current here for several days that defaulting ex-Sheriff and Treasurer Aman who has been a fugitive from justice for nearly two years would come into court here today and put himself upon the mercy of the court. Long separation from his wife and children and the strain incident to avoiding capture have so told upon his nerves that he is said to have concluded to have it all over by coming home and taking the medicine which the law will give. There was a good crowd here to witness his arrival but he failed to show up. It is stated he is near town and will likely come in tomorrow. Judge Lyon is holding court and the trial will probably take place at this term if Aman turns up.

MR. BICKETT AT BURGAW

Large Crowd of Pender Democrats Heard Great Speech From North Carolina's Next Attorney General—Barbecue.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Burgaw, N. C., Oct. 26.—Burgaw was fortunate today in having the Hon. T. W. Bickett in her midst to discuss the issues of the present campaign.

A large crowd present from every section of the county heard what all conceded the best political speech that has been heard here for a long time.

At 12 o'clock E. L. Larkins, Esq., chairman of the Democratic County Executive Committee, called the meeting to order and read a telegram from Hon. J. T. Foy, expressing regrets that sickness kept him from being present, after which he said that Hon. E. A. Hawes, Jr., nominee for the Senate, would introduce the speaker, which he did in a short but eloquent speech, paying a deserved tribute to the distinguished speaker for his labors for Democracy and white supremacy in the past.

Mr. Bickett's fame as a popular speaker had preceded him and it is not too much to say that he fully sustained it and, if anything, excelled the expectations of his audience.

On National issues his argument of the Republican party, as the party of greed and graft, as the party controlled by the trusts and monopolies, was so plain and convincing that even the most hardened Republican would have been obliged to admit the truth of it. He said if you were to cut out that element in the party they would not be able to carry a single township in the United States. He showed conclusively that no legislation in the interest of the people could be passed by a Republican Congress; that even President Roosevelt himself could not secure passage of such laws as he had recommended to Congress, although he had the solid support of the Democratic members in behalf of it. He said that unless there was a change from present conditions we were confronted with one of two results,anarchy and socialism, and he thought it was time for all patriotic men to vote for Democratic principles, thus averting such a calamity.

He said the Republican party had been in control of the Government for forty years and all these conditions had grown up with it, and that they were a part and parcel of its being; that if you kill one you kill the other, and that the idea of the Republican party killing a trust was absurd. He said that in 1890 10 per cent. of the people owned about 50 per cent. of the wealth of this country, but that now they owned about 90 per cent.

Coming to State matters he asked why should any man vote against the Democratic party? He said that any man who loved his children, loved peace and quiet and good order ought to vote the Democratic ticket. He said the Republicans were building their hopes on the fact that some Democrats were mad and, therefore, were going to vote the Republican ticket. He called attention to the prohibition question and asked why should any Democrat vote the Republican ticket on that account? That it had not been a party question, and that the Republican party itself, both in the convention at Greensboro and Charlotte, had refused to criticise the Democratic party on account of it, although an effort was made in both conventions to bring it in, but it was overwhelmingly defeated. He asked what could they hope from the Republican party on that question, anyhow; that in the only counties where the Republicans had any hope of electing members of the Legislature not one candidate would dare say he would vote to repeal the prohibition law. Now, would their candidate for Governor, Mr. Cox, favor any legislation if he should be elected.

In conclusion he paid a most beautiful tribute to Hon. W. J. Bryan, expressing the belief that he would be the next President of the United States.

Mr. Bickett interspersed his speech with many humorous anecdotes, which illustrated the points which he wished to make, and kept the audience in a roar of laughter. In this respect he is the equal of our own Zeb Vance. He spoke for something over two hours, but did not seem to be more than half that time. It was a speech well worth losing a day to hear, and Pender is to be congratulated in having had the pleasure of hearing the next attorney general of North Carolina.

The Italian band from St. Helena furnished music for the occasion, which added very much to the enjoyment of the day and at the conclusion of the speech a large crowd gathered under the trees on the square, where a bountiful repast had been spread to which full and ample justice was done.

Committee's Request to Parents.

The committee consisting of Mesdames Barentine, Leitner and Bluethenthal is exceedingly anxious to hear from parents, who will enter babies in decorated carriages and go-carts, in the civic parade of next Tuesday, November 3rd. They ask to be advised at once.

A STRENUOUS WEEK

New Hanover Democratic Leaders Allowing no Grass to Grow Under Their Feet.

ADDRESS BY HON. H. L. COOK

Fine Argument Last Night in Court House—Hon. T. W. Bickett Here. Labor Speech Tonight. Brunswick Dates.

Local Democratic leaders are permitting no verdure to take root under their pedal extremities, or words to that effect, in this, the closing week of the present political campaign.

Following a conference with and repeated unsuccessful efforts to have Hon. T. W. Bickett return here for a speech later in the week from his itinerary in Pender, Sampson and Duplin counties, and a splendid address in the Court House here last night by Hon. H. L. Cook, of Cumberland, presidential elector for this district, Hon. W. M. Tye will speak tonight in the Court House on the subject "The Relation of Labor to the Democratic Party;" other meetings will be arranged during the week and every plan will be laid for getting a full vote to the polls today week when the battle of ballots will be waged all over the Nation.

Hon. T. W. Bickett, Democratic candidate for Attorney General, spent Sunday and a part of yesterday in the city on his way from Hamlet to Burgaw where he spoke yesterday as will be seen by reference to another column of today's paper. While in the city Mr. Bickett was called upon by a number of the leading party men in the city and they received encouraging news from all parts of the State The primary object of several conferences held with Mr. Bickett was to induce him to speak here one night this week. After a cross-fire of letters and telegrams to the State Chairman all day, it was found at the last moment that it would be impossible to change the itinerary and Mr. Bickett telegraphed late yesterday afternoon that he was very sorry but it would be impossible for him to come.

Mr. Cook's Address.

Although little opportunity had been given for advertising the meeting and several counter-attractions claimed the attention of many of the militant Democracy of the county. Hon. H. L. Cook, presidential elector for the Sixth District, was greeted by a fairly good crowd upon his appearance last night at the Court House for a political discussion of the issues of the present campaign.

Mr. Cook was heard with much interest by those present, in spite of the fact that a part of his discourse had to be delivered in the dark in consequence of an accident at the power house, cutting off the current from 8:30 to a few minutes after 9 o'clock. The speaker was presented by his fellow countryman, President Cameron F. MacRae, of the Bryan and Kitchin Club. Mr. Cook spoke largely in conversational manner but he was quite effective and handled the issues between the two great parties in an exhaustive and convincing manner.

He first addressed himself to State issues, comparing the record of the two parties in North Carolina and severely arraigning the leaders of the Republican party, who, he declared, were the same as in 1898 when the people rose up in their might and threw them from power.

The latter part of his address was devoted to National issues, dealing first with the protective tariff, quoting President Elliot, of Harvard, in the opinion that the policy of the Republican party in this respect is a humbug and a delusion, and analyzing very clearly, to the satisfaction of all, the iniquity of the system. He made a special application of this subject to the cotton industry and pointed out quite convincingly why the South should stand for reduction and revision as declared for by the Democratic party.

Mr. Cook spoke with especial force on the Democratic plank, declaring for the guarantee of bank deposits, to which more and more of the bankers were being committed as the days go by, and exposing the fallacy of the postal savings bank as tending not only to a centralization of power but a concentration of the capital of the country to the disparagement of the local community, which under the present system benefitted by local investments of local savings banks.

Mr. Cook closed with a brief discussion of the Democratic plank declaring for the election of United States Senator by the people and saddling upon the G. O. P. full responsibility for the present panic, expressing the difference between this one and that which followed a depletion of the treasury under the last days of the Harrison administration. He appealed strongly to the Democrats of New Hanover to cast their ballots for Wm. J. Bryan, to whom he paid high tribute, receiving unstinted applause throughout.

Mr. Cook leaves early this morning for a series of speeches in Brunswick county, addressing the voters at Funston today at noon, Sturgeon's Creek this evening; Summerville tomorrow morning; Northwest at 2 P. M. and at Pembroke, Robeson county, tomorrow night. Hon. N. A. Sinclair, returning from Columbus county, will speak today at Shallotte, Mt. Pisgah at night, and at Southport tomorrow at noon. State Senator Empie is also going over to Brunswick today for a series of speeches that will keep him over in that section until election day. Among his appointments are Boone's Neck, Ash, Shallotte, Iredell and such other places as may be designated by Mr. Peter Rourk, who has charge of a very strenuous week's campaigning in the lower part of the county.

BADE THEM SAD FAREWELL

Two especially impressive and largely attended services in the regular order at the church, morning and evening, an after-meeting with the Brotherhood of Saint James in the vestry room, immediately following the first service of the day, a great general meeting in the Academy of Music Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and a military adieu from the Wilmington Light Infantry, which he has served so faithfully as chaplain for the past several years, at the station yesterday evening, were remarkable demonstrations of popular regret, at the loss by the community of the Rev. R. W. Hogue, the retiring rector of Saint James' Episcopal Church, who left last night via Morganton, N. C., where he will be joined by his family, for his new charge at the University of North Carolina.

Coincident and quite with the same feeling of popular regret was the leaving on the same train with Mr. Hogue of Adjutant and Mrs. James Yates and their interesting children, of the Salvation Army, who are now on their way to Lynchburg, Va., where they will be stationed next after all efforts personal and official, had been put forth to retain them here. Great crowds of personal friends of them all were at the station to say good-bye and the scene was one of sadness. The announcement of the going of these good people has been uppermost in the public mind for several days and nothing can here be added to strengthen the feeling of the community that in their going Wilmington has sustained a great loss.

The meeting in the Academy of Music Sunday afternoon was a great one, every seat in the house having been taken. Dr. Jos. Akerman, president of the Association, presided and representatives of nearly every religious denomination in the city participated in the pleasing exercises that were carried out according to the programme previously announced. Mr. Hogue, who made the principal address, had for his theme "The God There is in the World," the change having been necessitated on account of the mixed audience instead of an audience of men only as he had purposed addressing at first on the subject "Christian Manliness." The address was a beautiful one and developed a farewell to the people of Wilmington at large that was quite appropriate and pleasing. Adjutant Yates occupied a seat with others on the platform with the speaker and his presence was referred to by Mr. Hogue in his address with rare feeling.

A pleasing feature of the departure of both Mr. Hogue and Mr. Yates at the station yesterday evening was the presentation to the former by the Wilmington Light Infantry of a handsome leather traveling bag, silk umbrella and kindly remembrances for Mrs. Hogue and children, and the presentation to Mr. Yates of a handsome purse of money contributed by popular subscription and by quite all the churches of Wilmington by collections at their services on Sunday.

The Wilmington Light Infantry in full uniform and commanded by Capt. Wm. F. Robertson, marched to the station shortly before the hour for the departure of the train and having been called to attention just in front of the union depot, Capt. Robertson called Mr. Hogue to the front and in a neat address presented to him the tokens named. Mr. Hogue was too full to acknowledge the manifestations of esteem at length and after making brief response, passed up and down the two columns and gave each of "his boys" a hearty handshake. Later as the train left the station, three hearty cheers were given by the company in honor of their retiring chaplain.

As the company formed near the train after the presentation exercises, Capt. Robertson also sought out Adjutant Yates and he, too, passed up and down the two columns and bade each of the young men good-bye, assuring them of his interest and regret at leaving the city.

Tendered Them Welcome Reception.

A welcome reception tendered by the members of local post of the Salvation Army to Adjutant and Mrs. Teed last evening in the hall on Front street was a congenial and pleasant affair, participated in with great interest by those present. The happy occasion was featured by a speech Captain D. S. Bender, which was in the nature of a welcome to the new members, to which Adjutant Teed made a pleasant response. In attendance were the 29 members of the local post and the enjoyable event will be pleasantly remembered.

DESPERATE ASSAULT

BADE DEFIANCE TO POLICE

Shooting Affair Early Sunday Morning in Northern Part of City Created Some Excitement. Prisoner's Record.

Eugene Harris, 28 years of age, a son of ex-Policeman W. M. Harris, and well known in the southern part of the city where he lives, was shot and seriously but not fatally wounded early Sunday morning, just before day, by George Roderick, a middle-aged white man, an ex-convict and all-round bad fellow, the shooting having occurred at the home of Harris near Eleventh and Queen streets.

A single-barrelled, breech-loading shot-gun was the weapon used and Harris was badly injured in the arm and side, the shot having been fired by Roderick from the street as Harris stood in his yard. Mounted Policemen D. W. Coleman and W. G. Brinkley heard the report of the gun and riding rapidly to the scene found Roderick in the street, but he leveled his gun at Officer Coleman, cocked it and with a vile epithet ordered him to stand off. The same officers, however, a little later effected Roderick's arrest by coming upon him suddenly around the corner of a fence on the sidewalk by which he was seated, his loaded gun across his lap. Officer Brinkley was forced to use his club quite sharply on the man's head in disarming him, his scalp being laid open several inches, necessitating his removal to the hospital from which, however, he was later sent to the police station for trial before the Mayor on the two charges of an assault with a deadly weapon upon Harris and also upon the officer.

Soon after the shooting Harris was taken to the hospital in the ambulance and his wounds were dressed, but upon the call of the case for trial yesterday, a certificate was presented from Dr. C. P. Bolles, stating that Harris would not be able to leave his home before Wednesday.

The shooting caused much excitement in the early hours of Sunday in police circles. Roderick only recently completed a year's sentence on the roads for resisting officers who went to arrest him for attempting to shoot his wife and other members of the family. At that time in broad daylight he held several officers and a posse of citizens at bay with the same gun and would no doubt have accomplished harm, but for the fact that Police Captain Geo. Smith came upon him from the rear and disarmed him. It is said that Harris resented the presence of Roderick at his home when he came home Saturday night, words ensued, Harris went in his yard to drive the man off and was shot down as stated.

ARCHDEACON WEBBER.

Noted Preacher to Conduct Mission at St. John's Church.

The rector and vestry of St. John's church announce that they have been able to secure Archdeacon Percy C. Webber to conduct a week of Mission services Nov. 20th—26th.

Archdeacon Webber is an unusually gifted preacher who spends his entire time in the work of Mission services, and he is so much in demand that applications have to be made far in advance of a Mission in order to secure his services. Everywhere he goes he stirs the spiritual life of the community deeply, and Wilmington as well as St. John's parish, is fortunate in having an early date with him for a Mission here. The Archdeacon will hold a Mission this week, beginning Friday, at Christ Church, Raleigh.

Sanders on Several Charges.

James Sanders, colored, who recently made himself conspicuous in police circles, by shooting at random around the Coast Line yard and making an assault upon Engineer Brandt and Mr. Roy Fennell, was tried before Justice Furlong yesterday morning, the case having been transferred from the Mayor's court. It will be recalled that the negro shot through the cab window and fled from the scene when he was fired upon by the engineer. On two charges for assault with a deadly weapon and carrying a concealed weapon, he was placed under $50 bond for each offense. On a third charge for shooting in the city limits, he was taxed the costs in the action. He failed to give the required security and was sent to jail.

TWO ELECTION ESTIMATES.

In Sunday's issue of the Virginian-Pilot of Norfolk there appeared two special telegrams from New York giving presidential election estimates in that day's issues of the Herald and the World of that city. Of the Herald's estimate the special says:

"The Sunday Herald, in a special political section, has the following to say regarding the election.

"As this, the first forecast number for 1908 of the Herald goes to press, there appears to be in progress an expansion of the Republican vote. From all surface indications this has been in progress for several weeks. At first it was almost impossible to detect it. The situation was much beclouded in nearly every State in the Middle West and in Ohio, New York, but there have been apparently steady and rapid gains by the Republican candidates and the chances now seem to favor the election of Taft and Sherman.

"Without making any positive prediction, and basing its conclusions on the reports of correspondents the Herald shows that William H. Taft is reasonably sure of 280 votes in the electoral college, 38 more than he needs for election.

"William J. Bryan is certain to receive 156 electoral votes, 21 votes are doubtful with a Democratic tendency, while 26 are doubtful and more than likely to go to the Republicans. If Mr. Bryan should succeed in carrying all the doubtful States he would have 203 electoral votes—77 less than his Republican competitor.

"The canvass also shows that the Republicans will probably carry the House of Representatives. The indicated strength of the respective parties is: Republicans, 219; Democrats, 172. There are twenty-two doubtful districts with Republican tendencies and twenty with Democratic tendencies.

"New York is one of the States that is classed for Taft. His plurality will probably be quite large."

The World's summary of the situation is as follows:

"The Sunday World will say:

"At present the concessions of party managers justify this line-up of the various States:

"For Bryan.—Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia and Wyoming. Total, 178.

"For Taft.—California, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin. Total 205.

"Doubtful—Indiana, Maryland, Nebraska, New York, Ohio and West Virginia. Total 100.

"It is conceded by all party managers that Mr. Bryan cannot be elected President without the 39 electoral votes of New York State. Mr. Taft can get the requisite 242 votes without New York, but to do so he must land Ohio and Indiana or Ohio with West Virginia, Nebraska and Maryland.

"Both sides are supremely confident of carrying enough to aggregate one hundred votes accredited to these six so-called doubtful States to win.

"A record-breaking plurality for both Bryan and Chanler is looked for by the Democrats in the five boroughs of greater New York. Taft and Hughes will lead in the up-State counties. Democratic estimates show that Chanler will leave the Coler plurality in the greater city of 122,632 (1902) way in the shade.

"Tammany Leader Murphy has reports indicating a Democratic plurality in the metropolitan district of more than 145,000."

It is hardly necessary to call attention to the great difference in the showings made by the two papers. From general reports there seems to be much more reason in the World's than in the Herald's forecast.

INDEX OF THE NATIONAL ELECTION.

According to the editor of a Republican paper published in Indianapolis, situated in Marion county, State of Indiana, the people will be able to know by 7:15 o'clock next Tuesday night who has been elected President. It all depends on how Marion county goes. The matter is thus explained by an editorial in yesterday's Charlotte Observer, based on a statement of the Indianapolis editor which says:

"Those who will want news showing definitely the trend of the country's vote without waiting for it through most or all of election night might keep their eyes and ears open for news from Marion county, Ind., which includes Indianapolis. This is the pivotal county of a pivotal State—a State which for many years past has almost invariably gone with both New York and the country. Moreover Marion county uses voting machines, which should enable the result to be known by 7:15 o'clock, Eastern time. How to interpret this result is told in an Indianapolis special to The Boston Transcript. 'A Republican editor,' the correspondent writes, 'says that if Bryan carries Marion county, all is lost. The county is a little more Republican than the rest of the State. If it goes for Taft by 1,000 plurality it will show that Indiana is mighty close, and that the last precinct and election district may have to be waited for in order to know where the electoral vote falls. If Marion county gives Taft 2,500 plurality, it will show, according to this observer, that the State has gone Republican by 25,000. People vote with such regularity in Indiana, party lines are so firmly held, and the organization is so complete, that these figures doubtless possess excellent interpreting value.'"

AN IMPORTANT CHANGE.

"It is well known that many 'identifications' are sheer hysteria, often for crimes that never were committed, and many other charges and identifications are founded on something worse than hysterical invention; they are the easiest escape from scandal. Now these are not the things to say, no doubt. They altogether lack chivalry and the aristocratic virtues. But perhaps it is time to put justice and truth above 'honor,' whatever that may be."

The above is a paragraph from an editorial in a recent issue of Collier's Weekly, a northern weekly publication which has a large circulation in the South.

For similar intimations clothed in hard'y less pronounced language the white people of this city only a few years ago wrecked a negro newspaper office, ran the editor out of the State and escorted a number of negroes and their white sympathizers to the corporate limits of the city and warned them never again to show their faces in our city, a warning which the parties considered that the "first law of nature" forced them to heed. Anyone readily understand its purport and readily understand its perport and recognize the reason for its production in the many recent infamous crimes which have been committed in this country, especially in the South. It is strange that a paper publishing such matter as its leading editorial should be allowed into Southern homes.

The next thing for Hearst to do is to publish the correspondence whereby those certain Americans in high office turned into their own pockets the greater part of the $40,000,000 the United States paid to the French Panama Canal Company stockholders in the purchase of their interest in that concern. Can't Hearst have some thief to steal this correspondence; if not he is losing his proficiency in his chief handicraft.

The people of the State are waiting to see what Editor Daniels will have to say in reply to ex-Judge Montgomery's notice of demand of a retravit on the part of the News and Observer about the Dixon letter. "What will he do with it?" is the question the admirers of Daniels are asking themselves. Now is the time for him to show his backbone.

A new and deadly disease has appeared in the town of Rabat in Morocco, as reported to the State Department by our minister to that country. Every case so far has proved fatal, death occurring in three days. All the foreign physicians who have investigated the disease are completely baffled.

The voters in Ohio and Indiana will get their surfeit of political speaking this year surely. Those two States will be overrun with speakers of both parties from now until election day.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—If the Democrats do not win in this election it will be their own fault, as they have not had as good a showing to w'n for fifty years, and it looks now as if things were realy going their way with a whoop.—Bayboro Sentinel.

—November 4th will find the Debs Red Special, the Chafin Water Wagon, the Hisgen-Graves Chariot, the Taft Campaign Special and the Watson Dray all housed safely in the political garage for repairs, while the Bryan Band Wagon will be drawn up in front of the White House. Wait and see.—Charlotte News.

—The revival of American shipping is a topic very dear apparently to many of our Republican friends, and there can be no doubt that the rehabilitation of our shipping in the foreign trade is a matter which demands the serious thought of every public man in the country. At the same time there is absolutely no hope of any advance being made so long as the shipping interests themselves adhere stubbornly to the subsidy idea. A ship subsidy is wrong in principle, and vicious in application, and, moreover, it will never accomplish the purpose sought, namely the rehabilitation of American shipping.—New Orleans Picayune.

—Judge Taft's solicitude to break the political solidity of the South would be more impressive if his personal stake in the rupture were not so great. The reasons he gives why the Southern people should change their party allegiance are neither flattering nor convincing to those to whom addressed. What made the South solid in the first place? The banded unity of the Northern and Western States, after the war in the effort to force upon the South a phase of Republicanism of which alien adventurers were the agents and exponents and a mass of lately manumitted negroes the instruments. There was the bloody shirt on one side and the dire necessity on the other of concentration as the last hope of preserving any semblance of honest or capable government in the South or even of saving the bulwarks of civilization. We do not wish to revive unpleasant memories or to rekindle animosities which are better buried. But some things ought to be said when our people are patronizingly assured by a candidate scouring the country for votes to place him in high office, that their fair share of the political and material benefits of a common government can only accrue to them through abandonment of the party which proved their salvation in the hour of imminent peril and by rallying to the standard of that other party which first thrust the Southern people into the attitude of servi servorum, and then exhausted partisan passion and sectional prejudice in the persistent attempt to keep them there.—Virginian-Pilot.

ONLY ONE.

The Record in Wilmington is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanent. Wilmington citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

R. F. Rowan, 603 Castle Street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I have no reason to alter my good opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills which I publicly expressed some years ago, after I had used them with good results. Since then many people have called on me and asked if the statement I gave were true, and it has always given me pleasure to answer in the affirmative. As the result of a strain, I suffered a great deal from backache. At time I was so lame that I could hardly stand up straight and my back was so weak that I could not lift the lightest article. I used plasters and liniments but they did me no good and when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I went to Robert R. Bellamy's drug store and purchased a box. I felt relieved after a few doses and continued to take them until my back regained its former strength and the pains disappeared. Since then there has been no sign of the trouble and I firmly believe that my cure is a permanent one."

A Good Tonic

For Sick Women

Of course, well people don't need a tonic. But sick people, and especially sick women, frequently do.

That feeling of weakness, tiredness, or languidness, that seems to make every movement or thought an effort, is much more than merely disagreeable. It is a sign of dangerous weakness, and should be promptly treated with Wine of Cardui.

Mrs. Annie Vaughan, of Raleigh, N. C., writes: "I cannot find words to express my deep gratitude for what your wonderful medicine Wine of Cardui did for me, for I sincerely believe it saved my life.

"I was sick and worn-out, almost unto death. My sister finally persuaded me to take Cardui. Before I had taken five (5) bottles, I was well and strong." Try Cardui. 'Twill help you.

WHEN FOOD WAS SCARCE.

Prices That Ruled In Paris During the Siege of 1870.

The following interesting statement of the prices that were paid for food during the siege of 1870 is taken verbatim out of the journal of a French officer stationed in Paris at the time:

"Toward the middle of October we had to make up our mind to sacrifice the animals of the zoological garden. The elephants and many other beasts were bought by M. Debos, the owner of the English meat shop in Av. Friendland. The meat of the elephants was sold from $10 to $12 a kilogram (two pounds), the trunk commanding the highest price, $16 a kilogram. The trunk and feet were both declared delicious by all gormands. In the same shop a pair of young wolves were sold for $2.50 per pound. The meat was soft and without taste. The biggest price was paid for a young live lamb that had been swiped by a 'franctireur' from the enemy. One hundred dollars was paid for it.

"Here is an exact price list of some victuals toward the end of the siege:

Two pounds of horseflesh	$5.00
One ham	10.00
A whole cat	3.00
A rabbit	10.00
One turkey	30.00
One egg	1.00
A rat	.50
A pigeon	3.00
One pound of butter	6.00
A pound of beans	1.50
A peck of carrots	2.00
One cabbage head	3.00
One stick of celery	.50
Wood to burn (100 pounds)	2.00

"Even the rich had to live on the meagerest diet and to take into their menu things that till then only the trapper in the virgin forests was supposed to eat. I leave it to you to imagine what kind of meals were served in the small restaurants and boarding houses.

"Moreover, everybody had to submit to the strictest orders. People stood in file before the butcher and baker shops to wait for their turns. Each household was furnished with a card from the municipality authorizing the bearer to buy a certain amount of meat and bread. The cook, the housewife, the young girl, the little child (men never go shopping in France), were posted for hours before the shops in rain and snow, with wet feet, shivering with cold. The unfortunate ones endured without a murmur these hardships. Women throughout the time of the siege were setting an example of courage and self abnegation not always followed by men.

"It was a sad and touching spectacle, these long files of women, nearly all dressed in black, grouped before the doors of the dealers, watched by the national guard, with whom they at first were laughing and chatting, till the sufferings from the cold had silenced the laugh and sometimes brought forth the tears.

"But in spite of all precautions the stores one by one were exhausted, the provisions, put in too late before the siege, were used up, and, while the babies, deprived of milk, died in great numbers or, fed on sweet wine and bread, pined slowly away, the big people tried to find new resources to prolong their lives."

THE FOUNDER OF INDIGESTION.

The founder of indigestion was Noah; he forgot to leave the pigs ashore. From the hog comes lard; from lard, indigestion. The moment you put lard-cooked food into your stomach, you send a pressing invitation for dyspepsia to come and take possession.

You don't need to use lard, though, unless you want to; there is a cooking fat that makes food any stomach can easily digest. It is COTTOLENE; no hog fat—just pure vegetable oil, nutritious, wholesome; makes flaky pie crust, crisp doughnuts, light, rich rolls and cake—in fact, all the things you like, but cannot eat perhaps, because they do not "agree."

COTTOLENE has been well named "the perfect shortening."

GOMPER'S REPLY TO ROOSEVELT

He Answers The President's Attack in His Letter to Knox.

THEIR FORMER AGREEMENT

On Questions Relating to the Matter of Labor—Shows Up President's Change of Position When Labor is For Bryan.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26th—Replying to President Roosevelt's letter to Senator Knox in reference to the application of the writ of injunction in labor disputes, Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement issued today, vigorously arraigns the President for what he terms "a change of position of at least apparent friendship to bitter indefensible antagonism."

"It has been my pleasure," Mr. Gomper's says, "to have often had the privilege of discussing with President Roosevelt a number of the fundamental questions of right, justice and moral and social uplift. Included in these discussions were the invasions of personal rights and human liberty by the courts in the injunction abuse. It is true that the President has not always fully agreed with my contentions, but he has never until the publication of his latest utterance hinted, much less charged, that anything which I advocated was lawless, unfeeling, despotic, brutal, or wicked; and yet the rights for which the workers of our country contend and which, as best as I can, I defend and advocate, have been as well known to him during the past several years as they were when he now so unjustifiedly undertakes to misrepresent my work, my motives, and my law-abiding citizenship. Surely that opinion was not always entertained by the President."

Mr. Gomper's says that last February he sent Mr. Roosevelt an issue of the American Federationist in which was published the chapter "Some Equivocal Rights of Labor" from George A. Alger's work "Moral Overstrain."

"The chapter of the book," Mr. Gomper's says, "is as keen criticism of the courts of the country in their decisions affecting the rights, interests, and liberty of the workers as anything I have ever said or written."

The President in acknowledging receipt of the article sent the following:

"The White House,
Washington, Jan., 1908.

"My Dear Mr. Gompers:

"You may be amused to know that I have sent copies of the 'Moral Overstrain' to Justices Day and Kenna. I am glad that you were able to use it in the American Federationist, and thank you for sending me the copy of the magazine.

"Sincerely Yours,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

"To Mr. Samuel Gompers,
"President American Federation of Labor, Washington, D. C."

"The fact of the matter is" Mr. Gompers declares "that President Roosevelt, having made Injunction Judge Taft the candidate of the Republican party for President, and seeing that the 'labor vote' which so often has been corralled, diverted, and perverted by the politicians, is now aroused and determined to deliver its own vote; that the toilers will not be cajoled, deceived or brow-beaten, has become desperate and angry, and in his anger, by the worst exhibition of damagogism, tries to instill into the employers and business men the fear that their property and business are in danger of a 'square deal,' implied by equality before the law and human freedom, is accorded to the workers with all other citizens. It is an exhibition of impotent rage and disappointment, and an awful descent from the dignity of the high office of the President of the United States. No one but himself will be deceived as to the purpose of Mr. Roosevelt.

"The workers and liberty-loving citizens are aroused as never before since '61. The "Battle Cry for Freedom" is again taken up. Then it was for the Union and the abolition of black slavery; today it is for the Union, equal rights, and freedom for all."

Mr. Gompers insists that the President "makes a direct and specific attack upon labor," in his letter to Senator Knox.

"The pretence that the attack is upon me is too thinly veiled to deceive any one," he adds, "strikes over my shoulder to the hearts of the great rank and file of the workers and other liberty-loving citizens of our country. So far as I am concerned, I have neither the inclination nor the desire to bask in the sunlight of President Roosevelt's 'Benevolent assimilation,' by which he placates some, by the Big Stick brow-beats others, and by his sophistry hopes to fool the masses into supporting Injunction Judge Taft.

"President Roosevelt says that Senator Knox has a peculiar right to discuss the principles involved in injunctions because he as Attorney-General prosecuted a civil suit for damages to an injured workman. That Senator Knox was the special counsel of the Pennsylvania Railroad and of the United States Steel Corporation would indeed qualify him to discuss the injunction abuse, but certainly only from the viewpoint of the friends of corporations who profit by the abuse of the injunction writ, as it brings advantage and profit to corporate greed and power.

STRUCK BY TRAIN.

White Man Fatally Injured Near Lumberton Sunmay—Simmons to Speak.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 26.—Walter Beasley, a white man, 35 or 40 years old, was struck by the Wilmington bound passenger train on the Seaboard Air Line yesterday morning near the 80-mile post, and badly injured. From what can be learned, it seems that he was under the influence of liquor and lying on the track with his head and shoulders against the rail, or near enough for the front part of the engine to strike him. When Engineer Owen Bundy discovered the man he applied his emergency brakes and did all in his power to stop before striking him, but was too close before he saw him. Beasley was put on the train and brought to Lumberton where he was placed in the Thompson Hospital. When the physicians made an examination it was found that the skull was fractured, and it was thought the chances for recovery were about even. This morning he is still unconscious with no signs of improvement. Beasley had on his person a flask of whiskey and a brand new revolver, which looks to be of about 44 calibre. He has a wife and three children. Within two weeks two men in this county have had the misfortune to get too much booze and stop on the railroad to rest.

Senator F. M. Simmons is advertised to speak here next Saturday at 11 o'clock at which time it is expected that there will be a great gathering of Democrats. This week is to witness a whirlwind campaign in this county, a large number of speakers being assigned to all parts of the county. One township in this county reports 50 new names registered, 46 of which are known to be Democrats.

Vessels Leave For Foreign Ports—Arrival Yesterday.

It is probable that four steamers including the two that cleared yesterday will leave from the local port with cotton for foreign markets this week, which will be the largest number in one week during the season. The cargoes and vessels are by Alexander Sprunt & Son.

According to reports at the local port there are seven loaded steamers bound for Wilmington from foreign ports with fertilizer constituents. They will begin arriving within the next few days.

The British steamer Borderer, Capt. Black, arrived yesterday light from Boston via Newport News, Va., to Alexander Sprunt & Son.

The British steamer Gondola, Capt. Robinson, cleared yesterday with 15,920 bales of cotton, which is the largest cargo from this port this season and is valued at $752,000. The British steamer Elloe, Capt. Blacklin, also cleared yesterday for Bremen with 13,158 bales of cotton, valued at $623,000. Both vessels and cargoes by Alexander Sprunt & Son.

20TH ANNUAL MEETING.

Pleasant Gathering Christian Association of St. Paul's.

The twentieth annual meeting of the Christian Association of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church Sunday afternoon in the Luther Memorial Building, Sixth and Princess streets, was well attended and a record of the accomplishments during the past year was very gratifying. The organization is a mutual benevolent society of the church; it has been doing very active work, principally for missions, during the past year, and has a membership of fifty-five.

A matter of interest was the re-election of officers, as follows: Mr. A. D. Wessell, president; Capt. F. W. Ortmann, vice president; Mr. J. D. H. Klander, secretary.

The Theatre

"The Great Divide," the Henry W. Miller production of Moody's great American play, was witnessed by a large audience at the Academy of Music last night. The drama is strong, engaging throughout and is put on with a wealth of scenic embellishment typifying the abandon of the great West and the culture of the refined East. Unfortunately the blowing out of an electric fuse just at the hour for the curtain to go up delayed the presentation of the play until an unseemly hour last night, but the audience was delighted with the play and the players.

Crystal Palace.

The new bill which opened at the Crystal Palace, the popular vaudeville house, yesterday afternoon is said to be not only up to the theatre's standard of excellence, but the best for variety and novelty that has yet been presented. The audiences yesterday afternoon and again last night were both large and delighted, and encores were frequent. The topliner on the bill, perhaps, is Mme. Zanamonettes, violin virtuoso. Her act is exceedingly high class and refined and her playing of the pieces of the Masters, and then into the light vein of the dashing popular airs is superb, and calls for hearty applause. On the splendid bill is also another well known musician, Grouscoup, but he presents his act in Germany comedy. Still another novelty act is that of Bashford, comedy bag punching, and he does some skilled and quickly executed stunts in punching the bag. Owing to the delayed arrival of his paraphernalia he could not go on at the matinee yesterday, but delighted the large attendance last night. Others on the bill are the Graham Sisters, who are cute, dashing "little tricks" and they present a bright and snappy singing and dancing sketch.

The usual daily matinees are given at the Palace and this week, on account of Mme Zanamonetts and the Graham Sisters being on the bill, will, no doubt, attract the ladies and children by the score.

CONFETTI & FEATHER TICKLERS

These Instruments of Torture to be Prohibited on Streets at Fest.

In response to an official communication from leading Wilmington pastors and others, Mayor Springer yesterday stated that the throwing of confetti and the use of "feather ticklers," familiar sources of annoyance at all well regulated carnivals, will be prohibited on the streets during the Elksfest here next week. Of course, the police have no jurisdiction except in overt acts on the private grounds of the fest, but on the public streets, the Mayor says that confetti and ticklers are under the ban and the police will be instructed to arrest for all violations of the order. The Mayor hesitated a long time before placing any restrictions whatever upon the abandon and liberties usually allowed during such weeks, but he saw the reason and the justice in the following communication upon which his action is based, hence the order:

"Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 20th.
"Hon. Wm. E. Springer, Mayor of Wilmington, N. C.

"Dear Sir:—The undersigned, representing (as we believe) a very large preponderance of the correct and moral sentiment of this community, respectfully request that you prohibit the throwing or use of so-called confetti at the approaching Elksfest.

"It is intended to conduct this carnival on high lines of propriety, and we believe such an inhibition from you would be in unison with the purposes of the Elks by anticipating and preventing acts of rudeness and discourtesy which would mar the enjoyment of many and reflect on the character of the entertainment.

Injured in Steamer Hold.

Saul Jenkins, colored, 37 years of age, employed as a stevedore at the Champion Compress, was seriously, but it is not thought fatally wounded as the result of being struck by a bale of cotton which fell through a hatch into the hold of one of the large steamers now receiving cargo there yesterday morning. Jenkins was removed to the hospital where he appears to be doing very well.

BLUE WOMEN

Women should understand that melancholia, commonly called "the blues," is in nine times out of ten a sure symptom of some serious female organic derangement and should have immediate attention.

Women whose spirits are depressed, and who are ailing and miserable, should rely upon as is evidenced by following letters.

Mrs. F. Ellsworth, of Mayville, N. Y., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For three years I was in an awful despondent and nervous condition caused by female troubles. I was not contented anywhere, and was in such constant fear that something terrible was going to happen that it seemed as though I should lose my mind. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored my health, and I cannot say enough for it."

Mrs. Mary J. Williams, of Bridgeport, Ill., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I have been suffering from a female trouble, backache and headaches, and was so blue that I was simply in despair. I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure to tell you that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me. The change in my appearance is wonderful, and I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache. Why don't you try it?

Big Comedy Offering at Bijou.

"Breaking Into Society" is a big comedy feature that will hold the boards in moving pictures at the Bijou today. This is one of Essanay's greatest films and has been featured all over the country. A tremendous laugh is in it for every audience which follows the checkered career of "Pat O'Brien," a hod carrier, who suddenly finds himself an heir to millions, drops his hod and begins a ludicrous attempt to establish himself as one of the four hundred. The possibilities are great and the pictures present every one of them. There are 950 feet of the film with a laugh in every inch with sometimes two.

61 NIGHT RIDERS ARRESTED.

Implicated in Outrages in Tennessee. Ring Leader in Custody.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Camp Nemo, Reelfoot Lake, Tenn., Oct. 26.—Fourteen more prisoners were brought into camp today in connection with the recent night rider outrages in this section. This makes a total of 61 prisoners now in custody here. Three mounted scouting parties went out and two of them returned. The third will not be back before tomorrow night. The detachment away today is under command of Capt. C. B. Rogan, U. S. Army.

As an illustration of the temper of the people an incident which occurred Sunday when one of the prisoners now in camp was taken is of interest. The prisoner's wife came to the gate as the party headed by Capt. Rogan passed and said: "Thank God, the time has come when I can tell what I know. You've got a man there," she said, "pointing to the wagon load of prisoners, "who is one of the ring leaders; he came to my house and held a pistol on me and I'm going to tell what I know." The woman will be summoned before the grand jury.

EXTERNAL REMEDY FOR ECZEMA

Why Salves Fail While a Simple Liquid Has Accomplished Thousands of Cures.

It is now thoroughly established among the best medical authorities that eczema is purely a skin disease, due to a germ and curable only through the skin. It is not a blood disease at all; in fact, thousands of people suffer with skin disease and are perfectly healthy otherwise, and therefore prove they have no diseased blood.

Smeary salves cannot reach the germs because they do not penetrate the skin. The only way to reach the germs is by means of a penetrating liquid.

Such a liquid can be obtained by simply mixing ordinary oil of wintergreen with thymol, glycerine and other healing agents. This compound known as D. D. D. Prescription stops the itch instantly—and the cures all appear to be permanent. In fact, it took thousands of cures, case after case, before the best scientific authorities were convinced of the absolute merit of this remedy. The effect of D. D. D. Prescription in numbing the itching eczema germs is seen within one minute after the first application. We especially recommend D. D. D. Soap in connection with this treatment.

LITTLE BOY NOW SAFE AND SOUND

Bennie King, Rescued From Danger Last Sunday.

AFTER THREE FAILURES

Grandson of Mrs. Lizzie Croom, Who Has Conducted a Boarding House Here For Years, is Restored.

Another young life that had been blasted by a hideous form of affliction was made healthy and happy in this city Sunday. Little Bennie King, the ten-year-old grand-son of Mrs. Lizzie Croom, who conducts a hotel on Front street, between Dock and Orange streets, was the victim in this case, and instead of the stupid, half-dead boy that his mother and grand-mother have fretted and doctored for over a year and a half, Bennie is today as spry as a cricket; the irrepressible vigor of a ten-year-old boy has returned to him, and for all of this the little fellow, with his mother and grand-mother, are thankful to Col. Frank A. Dillingham, Mr. Alva A. Mills, his local representative, and the great Plant Juice remedies, which were the means of restoring the health of Bennie King.

The fame of Plant Juice as a dependable remedy in the treatment of tapeworm cases is known in every nook and corner of this State and it is not surprising that it should reach the ears of Mrs. Croom. She had watched little Bennie suffer from the ravages of this man-destroying parasite. She knew that his voracious appetite; the sharp pains; weakness and dizziness were all due to the presence of this repulsive creature in his stomach and made up her mind that if Plant Juice removed these worms from others that it ought to help Bennie. Three physicians had on different occasions made efforts to cure the boy, but without success, and she turned to Plant Juice as the last hope. The success of this wonderful medicine and the details of the case are set forth in the following statement from Mrs. Croom:

"Bennie King is the ten-year-old son of my widowed daughter. His physical condition has been such in the last year and a half that we were convinced that he had a tapeworm. His appetite was abnormal and irregular; he would eat heartily in spite of the fact that he suffered with extreme nausea. He complained continually of severe pains in his stomach. He slept a great deal and appeared to be in a half stupor during his waking hours. Three physicians attempted to cure him but no effort that we could make appeared to give him any relief, and upon learning of the success of Dillingham's Plant Juice in the removal of tapeworms we decided to give this medicine a trial. The result was satisfactory in the extreme, as a tapeworm measuring between twenty-five and thirty feet was expelled by my grandson Sunday.

"Dillingham's Plant Juice is beyond all doubt the greatest remedy made in the treatment of such cases. It has not only expelled the worm, but seems to have helped in other ways. The languid, listless air has now left him and he is as bright as a dollar. His pains have disappeared and he has been completely restored to good health by this great medicine."

After reading this statement no sane person can doubt the effectiveness of Plant Juice in expelling tapeworms from the human system. It proves its effectiveness, and it is this proof that has resulted in a demand for Plant Juice in Wilmington that has never been equalled by any other proprietary medicine. At the drug stores of R. R. Bellamy, the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., and other druggists rapidly growing sales are reported, both locally and from nearby towns, residents of which order Plant Juice by mail.

She Likes Good Things.

Mrs. Chas. E. Smith of West Franklin Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers sold at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 25c.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Charlotte News: A special farewell service was held last night in the Monroe Presbyterian church on the eve of the departure of Rev. Geo. P. Stevens for the mission field in China.

—Newbern Journal: The large three masted schooner, Mary and Anna Beswick, which has been overdue two weeks arrived yesterday with cargo of salt for E. K. Bishop & Co., and is now discharging at their wharf.

—Rocky Mount Record: Reports from all parts of both counties shows that our farmers are well up with the work of harvesting and the picking and ginning of cotton is going on at a lively clip. The thrashing of peas are keeping many of the farmers busy at present.

—Tarboro Southerner: At a preliminary hearing Saturday Justice of the Peace Thorpe, of Rocky Mount, discharged W. J. Wells, who was charged with shoving his wife from a moving train. The evidence showed that the husband jumped from the train first, and that the wife followed him. Mrs. Wells is in a serious condition, and there is little hope of recovery.

—Charlotte Observer: "To the Editor: Please find enclosed $1 as a contribution from a wage-earner to the National Democratic campaign fund. Recognizing the fact that wage-earners compose the largest number of voters in this country and in view of the fact that not much is heard from this class, save from some leader of organized labor, will you permit me as one from the rank and file of this number to make a statement or two in regard to the political and civil situation as in my humble judgment I see it today. * * * DEMOCRAT."

—Greensboro News: Mrs. M. B. Hurst, of the Salvation Army, traveling between Lynchburg, Va., and Greenville, S. C., on train No. 37, yesterday morning, was seized with a hemorrhage just before the train reached this city and was taken off and placed in the woman's waiting room. Dr. Best was summoned at once, but the woman died within a few minutes of his arrival. On the train with Mrs. Hurst were Mrs. Pringle, also of the army, and her young daughter. The body was taken to Poole's undertaking rooms, to be kept until relatives in New York can be reached by wire.

—Charlotte Observer: The registration books for the general election, November 3rd, closed yesterday afternoon at sunset. Chairman James A. Bell, of the county Democratic Executive Committee, stated to an Observer man last night that practically all of those in the county entitled to vote have reigstered and that from 80 to 85 per cent. of the qualified voters of the city had done likewise. This indicates that the registration has been the heaviest in years, a most gratifying showing when it is considered that a new registration was required. It means that the Democratic majority in the county this fall will be a record breaker.

—Fayetteville Observer: One of the most interesting patients the Highsmith Hospital has had in a long time, is Mr. J. L. Caddell, a young man of Rowland. It will be recalled that he was shot by a negro while he was driving a wagon load of machinery from Marion to Mullins, S. C., and that the negro escaped lynching only by a ruse of the authorities, who secretly conveyed him to a place of safe keeping where he now awaits trial. The negro claims that he shot Mr. Caddell by mistake. Mr. Caddell says that he was passing a house in which were a lot of drunken negroes, when one of them called out to him, using a name he did not know. He told the man that he was mistaken, but he paid no attention and fired at him, the ball entering the right leg. He was brought to the Hospital here the next day and it was found necessary to amputate the limb at the hip joint.

—Charlotte Observer: Whirling without warning upon his superior in a fit of anger, Clifton MacBeth, a negro waiter at the Selwyn Hotel, struck Mr. William Smith, storeroom man at that hostelry, yesterday afternoon a terrific blow on the back of the head with a heavy stone pitcher, weighing perhaps a half dozen pounds. Standing not on the order of his going the negro fled and up to a late hour last night had not been captured. The young man was taken at once to St. Peter's Hospital, where it was discovered that there was no fracture of the skull proper, as had been feared there would be. There were symptoms of a fracture of the base of the skull, but this cannot be told with certainty for several days. The physicians do not think that the blow in the back of the head will necessarily be of serious result. His face was hurt rather badly by contact with the cement, against which he was hurled with great force. It is believed at the hotel, where Mr. Smith had been an employe for about eight months, and is a competent and valued man, that the sole cause of the negro's deed was anger because he was held in proper restraint in his work by Mr. Smith. The negro's tale was something to the effect that the man he struck had insulted over the telephone the wife of a distant cousin. This story is entirely discredited for reasons believed to be conclusive and is thought to be entirely trumped up.

Ecellent Health Advice.

Mrs. M. M. Davison, of No. 297 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy, for headache, billiousness and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 50c.

taken to protect corporate interests to the detriment of the people, why did President Roosevelt characterize Judge Grosscup's reversal of Judge Landis' $29,000,000 fine upon the Standard Oil trust as "a gross miscarriage of justice?"

"Declaring that the veriest tyro of a layman in his wildest dreams never suggested the abolition of the injunction process, Mr. Gompers insists that labor desires to have the injunction restored to the use "from which it has been ruthlessly diverted, from the protection of property rights to the invasion of personal freedom." He quotes from the President's messages to Congress and declares that they "show an utter confusion of the entire matter of injunction in Mr. Roosevelt's mind." He claims that the decisions of the lower courts in Great Britain, which were reversed by the higher courts there have been accepted as the basis for the issuance of the injunctions in the United States. Mr. Gompers also insists that the provisions of the Pearre and Wilson bills, advocated by the Federation of Labor, are not as broad or comprehensive in scope as the British Trades Disputes Act.

"The mere fact" continues Mr. Gompers, "that Mr. Roosevelt denounces a proposition as wicked does not so constitute it; time and circumstances and party obligation have persuaded him to modify his judgment and his utterances. Surely, it must bring unction to him to find his unwarranted attack on me so thoroughly appreciated by the New York Sun, which characterizes him for his past utterances in as severe language as that with which he now attacks me."

Referring to dissenting opinions of Justice Harlan Justice Moody, and many distinguished jurists and legal authorities on the abuse of the injunction he declares that Mr. Roosevelt has "placed me in good company."

"Of course," he says, "everyone knows that the President 'strongly' urged every measure which he advocated, and then accepted what his political opponents in his own party chose to give him. It is general knowledge that he had a more liberal platform prepared for adoption by the Republican Convention at Chicago and then accepted what they doled out. All know that the nomination of Mr. Sherman for the Vice-Presidency was concocted by Senator Burrows and Genial Uncle Joe Cannon as a slap in the face to Mr. Roosevelt; but the President, because his Injunction Judge, Mr. Taft, has been nominated for the Presidency, now not only swallows the whole pot pourri, but must needs directly and indirectly attack me in the fight which my fellow-workers and I are making in defense of equality before the law, of the man of labor with all other citizens, and for the establishment of human freedom."

Mr. Gompers asserts that the "Pearre injunction bill, which Mr. Roosevelt attacks, has been before several Congresses without a word of criticism or comment from him," and scouts the suggestion that "Mr. Mitchell and other labor leaders" are not in sympathy with him in his advocacy of the Pearre and Wilson injunction bills.

"John Mitchell, Frank Morrison, and I are now on trial to show cause why we should not be sent to jail because we exercised out constitutional rights, having violated no law of State or Nation," says Mr. Gompers. "Will the President publicly justify Justice Gould's injunction and the contempt proceedings to send Mitchell, Morrison, and me to jail on the grounds for contempt which are put forward by the Buck's Stove and Range Company under that injunction? The injunction issued by Justice Gould is based upon injunctions issued by Judge Taft and Judge Taft's language is quoted by Justice Gould.

"It is the purpose of the opponents of Labor to vilify the labor movement through me and Mr. Roosevelt now joins the chorus upon the pretext that I have attacked the Federal courts. As a man and as a citizen, I have nothing to retract; but I insist that despite great provocation I have always expressed my views and criticism—perhaps in strong, yet respectful language."

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Oct. 26.—The cotton market was irregular today and closing barely steady at an advance of one point on January but generally net unchanged to 2 points lower. Sales were estimated at 250,000 bales.

The market opened steady, unchanged to 5 points lower owing to indifferent cables and the report o fthe census bureau showing 6,283,789 bales ginned to October 18th or a little more than had been generally anticipated. Wall street bulls who had taken profits last week became heavy buyers at the decline, the market however, soon rallied and during the middle session sold about 4 to 7 points net higher, with January relatively firm. Later prices reacted under realizing and local bear pressure but offerings were well enough absorbed on a scale down to impart steadiness. Consideration of the census figures appeared to draw local opinions of the crop no closer together, some claiming that over 50 per cent. of the total had been ginned and that the yield would be under 12,000,000 bales, while others contended that these figures reflected a crop of over 13,000,000 bales. Local spot people said that New England mills were under the market and that little business was being done in consequence. There was some Southern selling here during the day, presumably in the way of hedges.

Receipts at the ports today were 61,904 bales against 64,145 last week and 52,851 last year; for the week 430,000 bales against 415,369 last week and 343,537 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans were 14,385 bales against 11,766 last year and at Houston 20,054 bales against 9,417 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 9.35; middling gulf 9.60; sales 400 bales. Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Oct. 26.—Trade in dry goods is growing steadily better. Cotton goods are active in primary market and mills are declining to make many contracts at the low prices offered. Cotton yarns are steady and in active inquiry. Spot trade in knit goods and hosiery is good. The jobbers report a quiet trade due to the approaching election. Raw silk is active and higher.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Oct. 26.—Sentiment in the stock market today was quite cheerful, but its active expression by buying of stocks was restrained. This seemed to be in accord with the desires of the controlling forces in the market. It is quite universally believed in the financial district that skillful and organized support of the market is exercised under the direction and in behalf of these groups in order to protect the values of securities accummulated at various times since the panic and now held, according to the popular assumption in Wall street in enormous volume. The large supplies of money procurable on call at low rates afford the facilities for the protection of this position.

There is small disposition to assault it on the part of any formidable professional element owing to the small inducement to liquidate in the progress of business affairs. The dealings fell at times today to near the point of idleness and were at all times dull and uneventful. An influential incident was the further rise in the price of copper. United States steel was notably firm also. The Harriman Pacifics resumed the leadership of the railroad list and Northern Pacific made a brisk recovery from the pressure of realizing sales which held it down last week. The support of prices got no assistance from foreign sources as markets abroad were inclined to depression. London finances are disturbed by the continued requisition of Paris on that centre for gold and a possible advance in the Bank of England discount rate came under discussion today.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, were $2,972,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today were 234,800 shares.

Should a Man Economize On His Clothes?

If we had high-priced clothing to sell, we could probably convince you that you couldn't afford to wear cheap clothing.

No man can afford to wear clothes that discount him in the eyes of everybody he meets. But you can't walk a block in this city with out passing many men who are wearing clothing that sets badly on them; is curled at the edges, and drawn out of shape—because they paid a few dollars less for it than they would have need to pay for perfect-fitting clothes.

And the perfect-fitting clothing would not only make them look better and feel better every minute they had it on, BUT WOULD WEAR HALF AS LONG AGAIN, at least, and so be cheaper in the end than the clothes that never gave any satisfaction, first or last.

But, while SOLKY CLOTHING is the BEST that is known, ready-made, in style, workmanship and finish, it costs just about the same as the less worthy kinds.

Men's Sack Suits, $15 to $28

Men's Fall Overcoats, $15 to $25

Men's Raincoats, $15 to $25

MEN'S COLORED STIF BOSOM SHIRTS.

TAFT'S ACTIVE DAY IN CONNECTICUT

Greeted by Large Crowd at New Haven and Yale Students Pledge Support.

HIS ARRIVAL IN EMPIR ESTATE

Beginning With Speech at Port Royal He Was Heartily Welcomed by New York Republicans—At Congress Hall.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Oct. 26.—Devoted the day to a trip in Connecticut and in the evening to speech making in Brooklyn William H. Taft's first day of active campaigning on his present visit to this section was prospected by him with both vigor and earnestness. While the day, despite its call for a speech of some length in New Haven, and a shorter one at Port Chester on the return trip to New York, was one of comparative ease for the Republican candidate, the calls that were made upon him in Brooklyn they were such as to keep him actively occupied every moment. When the candidate entered that portion of Greater New York late this afternoon he found himself fairly overwhelmed with engagements. Before the night was over he had accomplished five speeches, eaten dinner with a hundred prominent Republicans as the guest of Republican State Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff, reviewed a parade, which in spite of somewhat adverse weather conditions was impressive in its size and inspiring in its enthusiasm and then attended a reception at the Union League Club.

A deluge which broke loose just at about the time that Mr. Taft was entering New York's trans-Pontine section threatened for a time seriously to interfere with the evenings programme there. It had been planned to make the parade one of the big features of the Taft demonstration and the downpour continued for some time. The rainfall ceased, however, before the parade was scheduled to start and the comfort of the marching thousands or of the reviewing party was not interferred with, and the function was successfully carried out. Similarly successful and enthusiastic were the meetings of the night particularly those in the Clermont Avenue rink and the Academy of Music where Mr. Taft made his principal addresses.

The feature of the trip into Connecticut was the New Haven meeting. Here with football enthusiasm, the candidate was pledged the support of a large portion of the student body of Yale through the presentation of handsomely bound memorial contribution containing many pages of signatures. National Committeeman Brooker and State Chairman Kneally were present, likewise Senators Brandegee and Bulkely. A parade of the Yale Taft Club and the New Haven Taft Club, headed by fourteen veterans of the Wideawake Club of 1860 paraded the streets in the rain while a tremendous crowd gathered in the big armory, where the speeches were made.

The candidate delivered a pointed review of the campaign issues in which he held uppermost the importance of the maintenance of the protective principle and the rehabilitation of business confidence. The speech was punctuated by the Yale yells. Enthusiasm and friendliness were everywhere apparent.

At Port Chester a tremendous crowd had assembled for the purpose of listening to both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Taft, who were each due there about the same time. Judge Taft reached there first and he was met by cheers and the waving of many small flags in the hands of the crowd.

"Bryan said a year ago that the recent panic was not due to Roosevelt," said Mr. Taft in his brief speech. "He now says it was due to Roosevelt. That difference of opinion brought about in one year is not exceptional in Bryan's career."

Going to New Haven, Mr. Taft spoke to crowds in the rain at Stamford, South Norwalk and Bridgeport.

When the Taft special reached New York on its return at 4:30 o'clock the candidate was taken to the Montauk Club, Brooklyn, by State Chairman Woodruff, where he was the guest of honor at a dinner participated in by a hundred prominent Republicans of that city.

No Reason For Changing.

At Congress hall, Mr. Taft launched into a speech to show why there was no good reason for changing the policy of the administration.

"How about the panic, Billy?" came a voice.

Mr. Taft answered by showing that Theodore Roosevelt had awakened the business moral conscience of the country and then brought out that the exponent of this moral awakening in New York today was Governor Hughes. As to the panic, he said it came a year ago in October. Prosperity so great resulted in wild cat schemes and consequently loss of confidence, and then the panic. This he said, was not widespread and was now rapidly disappearing and with Republican success would speedily disappear altogether. Such he declared, would not be the case with Democratic success.

"The defeat of Mr. Bryan in 1908 is just as certain to bring good times as his defeat in 1896 or 1900."

At Arion Hall the candidate found an immense and cheering audience awaiting him. This audience was composed largely of Germans. He declared that to the German Americans belonged great credit for the defeat of the free silver heresy in 1896.

HAINS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Attorney For Slayer of Annis Will Argue Temporary Insanity For Defense—Mrs. Hains May Figure in the Trial.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Oct. 26.—Temporary insanity will be the defense of Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., who killed Wm. Ennis at the Bayside Yacht Club's landing last August.

In the Supreme Court at Flushing today Judge Garretson overruled the demurrer entered by counsel for the defense in the case of T. Jenkins Hains, brother of the captain, which set up the claim that the claim was defective in that Jenkins Hains was both principal and accessory before the fact. Jenkins Hains was then called to the bar and pleaded to the indictment not guilty. John F. McIntyre, of counsel for the defense, entered a plea of not guilty for Captain Hains on the ground that the time of the killing of Ennis, Captain Hains was insane. District Attorney Darrin offered no objection to the plea so that the court could set a date for the beginning of the trial. This Judge Garrelson preferred to leave to the judge who would preside at the November term of the court.

Mr. Darrin announced this afternoon that he will go before the Supreme Court at Flushing next Monday and ask that the trial of T. Jenkins Hains be set for November.

He said it has not yet been definitely decided whether or not Mrs. Hains shall be called as a witness for the prosecution at the trial.

POWERS WILL NOT AGREE.

Conference in Berlin Has Accomplished Nothing So Far.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

Berlin, Oct. 26.—A semi-official news agency summarizes the result of the conferences which have been going on between M. Iswolsky, the Russian Minister, and Prince von Buelow, the Imperial Chancellor, and Herr Von Schoen, German secretary of foreign affairs, as follows:

"The German government has no objections on principle to the proposed International Congress to discuss the Balkan situation. The German and Russian governments recognize the fact that a conference of the powers can only prove useful if a complete agreement among all the signatories of the Berlin treaty respecting the scope and contents of the programme to be submitted to the conference be attained before hand. The German government adheres to the standpoint that it will be unable to accept the proposals."

A Formal Denial.

London, Oct. 26.—The British government has issued in London and through the British ambassadors abroad, a formal denial that the rupture in direct negotiations between Austria-Hungary and Turkey was due to Great Britain's intervention, together with a statement that any direct arrangement satisfactory to Turkey would in the opinion of the British government smooth the way towards a general settlement. The tendency of diplomatic activity is towards peace.

It is reported from both Vienna and Constantinople that direct negotiations between Austria and Turkey will be resumed.

PROHIBITION CAUSES CONFLICT.

Locker Club Can Operate Contrary to Municipal Ordinance.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 26.—The State Court of Appeals today held that municipal ordinances that conflict with the State law which licenses "locker clubs" are illegal. The decision was handed down in the case of a Macon, Ga., locker club against the State attacking the ordinance of that city prohibiting locker clubs. The State prohibition which went into effect last January contains a clause placing a license tax of $500 on "locker clubs."

Later the city of Macon passed an ordinance making it unlawful for any club, corporation or association to keep on its premises any intoxicating liquors.

The court held in substance that municipalities cannot make illegal what the State has legalized.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 26.—A special to the State from Mullins says:

Fire today destroyed the splendid three-story factory of the Imperial Tobacco Company, owned and operated by J. P. Sale and Company, who are the buyers for the Imperial.

In the Imperial factory about 200 negro men and women were at work stemming tobacco and so rapidly did the fire gain headway that several had narrow escapes.

About 300,000 pounds of leaf tobacco was destroyed.

The loss is estimated at $400,000, mostly covered by insurance.

ENORMOUS CROWDS GREETED BRYAN

A GREAT DEMONSTRATION

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Madison Square Garden, New York, Oct. 26.—At the close of a trying day of outdoor speaking in a drenching rain, of fast fling trips by automobile and special train, of receptions and formal dinner and of three big evening meetings in different sections of the city, William Jennings Bryan tonight, in Madison Square Garden, addressed the most notable gathering of his three campaigns. The great oval amphi-theatre of the garden held a throng of thousands limited only by its vast capacity. From platform to the farthermost reaches of the loftiest of the four encircling galleries there was no vacant place. The police early in the evening cut off all access to the building with a disappointing waiting line blocks in length. Notable as it was the size and enthusiasm of its great crowd, the meeting took superior rank in the distinguished personnel of its speakers and party leaders who sat with Mr. Bryan upon the platform and cheered his every sentiment.

It was 10:15 o'clock when Mr. Bryan finally reached the garden. His coming was heralded by eager outposts at the doors and the first cry of "Bryan" brought every man and woman to their feet in one rising wave of humanity. A flag was in the hands of every person in the vast audience, and the scene as the presidential candidate made his way through the aisles to the stage was strickingly a repetition of the demonstration at Denver when Mr. Bryan was nominated. The waving of the flags in a rippling sea of color, the cheering and the music lasted for fourteen minutes before Mr. Bryan with uplifted hands, finally secured the silence that permitted him to proceed.

Mr. Bryan appeared tired and worn when he began to speak, but as he proceeded the cheers of his hearers seemed to imbue him with new strength, and he spoke with all his characteristic vigor. His voice, clear and resonant as a bell, filled the big garden to its farthest corners.

The candidate began his long day with a dash through mud and rain to Paterson, N. J., in an automobile. He spoke in a downpour for twenty minutes and like the thousands in his audience was drenched to the skin. Returning to the city, he was the guest at a reception of the Woman's Democratic Club at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel where two impulsive ladies threw their arms about Mr. Bryan and kissed him. Next he made a flying trip through West Chester county speaking at Yonkers, White Plains, Port Chester, New Rochelle and Mount Vernon. Once more returning to New York, Mr. Bryan was the guest of honor at a reception and dinner at the Democratic Club. Then began his evening tour, which took him first before an outdoor speaking in the Hamilton Fish Park before a crowd that filled Cooper Union and then to the Palm Garden at 58th street and Third avenue. It was from the Palm Garden that the candidate went direct to Madison Square Garden.

In his speech Mr. Bryan devoted a large part of his time to labor topics. The enthusiasm reached its highest point when he predicted that whether the Democratic party wins or loses, its policy of publicity of contributions would become the law of the land.

Mr. Bryan was given another ovation when he concluded at 11:55 o'clock. He had spoken several times of the lateness of the hour, but the crowd called to him to "go on." The demonstrations of applause and cheering seemed to increase in spontanity and volume, rather than diminish as the midnight hour approached.

ARCHBOLD MAKES REPLY

To Hearst's Reading of the Standard Oil Letters Recently Read—He Gives the Independence Party Man Knocks.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Oct. 26.—John D. Archbld of the Standard Oil Company made the following statement this afternoon regarding the letters read by William R. Hearst at the Carnegie Hall meeting Saturday night:

"I am very sure that until Hearst read the letters neither Judge Morrison nor Judge Henderson had any knowledge of my having written Governor Stone in their behalf. Judge Henderson was not appointed by Governor Stone to the Supreme Court, but was three years later appointed by Governor Pennypacker to a Superior Court judgeship. If, however, any feeble word of mine could have influenced in the slightest degree the selection of those gentlemen for their respective positions, I would be very proud of it. Their State has had no better servants than they and I certainly have never asked of them any favor of any kind, either for myself or for the company with which I am connected.

"My letters to General Elkins referring to accompanying drafts related entirely to contributions to the Republican State committee then engaged in the campaign preliminary to the re-nomination of Mr. McKinley, a subject regarding which I think Hearst would be a little sensitive, for was it not the election and tragic death of Mr. McKinley that came near costing Hearst his precious neck.

"The statement regarding Judge Haight is in connection with an old libel that has been explained and exploded so many times that it would be a simple weariness to the public to go over it again.

"The intimation by Hearst that he has had any communication from me or from any of my associates in connection with the stolen letters is a lie.

"The only favor which I would ask or hope ever to ask of Hearst is that he return me the letters handed him by his larcenious 'gentleman friend,' which were written from Japan relating to the fatal illness of my daughter in that country."

Why is Sugar Sweet?

If sugar did not dissolve in the mouth you could not taste the sweet. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the ingredients do not dissolve in the mouth, but do dissolve readily in the acids of the stomach. Philadelphia's Premier Beauty.

This young lady, the exquisite beauty of whose complexion has aroused the greatest admiration amongst the members of Philadelphia's fashionable younger set, recently confided to a few girl friends the secret of her extraordinary facial loveliness. The secret could not remain one long, and gossip in society circles tells us that this young woman had been greatly annoyed by many dark brown freckles, which obstinately defied removal until she became a user of Nadinola Facial Cream. With its aid, however, she not only quickly and easily banished these unsightly blemishes, but was also rejoiced to find her skin left in every way more beautiful than before—healthy, clear, soft and velvety, with all the freshness and exquisite loveliness of a perfect complexion. Nadinola Cream is sold in every high-class drug store, 50c. and $1.00 the package.
